SENATOR CUMMINS ON SPECIAL INCOME TAX

President Taft's Idea, According to Senator Cummins, Violates Fundamental Principles.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—"The issue respecting an income tax has suddenly changed," declared Senator Cummins in the Senate yesterday. "Until within a few days the issue was whether any income tax should be authorized by Congress. It now seems to be what kind of an income tax shall be adopted." He said the amendments offered by the Senator from Texas and himself have been merged into a single amendment, recommended by the President, and offered by the finance committee, providing for a special income tax upon corporations and measured by their net earnings.

"The difference between the two plans is fundamental," he continued, "and involves the most vital principle in the authority of any government to tax its citizens and their property."

"I believe," said Mr. Cummins, "that the special income tax which has been proposed not only contravenes the most sacred principles of our Government compact, not only overrides the deepest convictions that civilized man holds with respect to taxation, but that it collides with the decision of the supreme court, so often mentioned in this debate, at the same point and with the same force as does the general income tax provision which we propose. I believe that it is not only in conflict with the Pollock case, but I believe that it has a constitutional weakness peculiar to itself and that its validity is much more doubtful than the validity of the amendment that we have offered."

Mr. Cummins suggested that the very existence of the protective tariff system would make necessary some other means of raising revenue than that now followed. The people, he said, would not consent to the excessive duties that would be necessary to obtain all the revenues needed from imports. He said the objections urged against the income tax when weighed with the objections to any other form of taxation open to Congress, will be found too trivial and ephemeral.

"If it has been fairly established that we ought now or in the near future to resort to some form of taxation not now employed," he continued, "there can be little doubt that we should take incomes rather than any other kind of property, whether tangible or intangible, as the object of our additional taxation."

The Iowa Senator concluded that if the Government depends upon its present resources it will have a large deficit in 1911. As a practical matter he regarded it as necessary to find some means for offsetting by a new form of taxation which would be imposed upon the people best able to bear it.

The amendment proposed, he said, was subject to all the objections from a legal point of view that were urged against his income tax. Reviewing these objections he said:

"1. It is a tax upon incomes and the fact that it brings within its provisions the incomes of corporations only does not and cannot change its character. The Spreckles case, which I have already mentioned, gives no more support to the validity of this amendment than to ours."

"2. It does not change the nature of a tax to bestow upon it a different name; and if a mere name was important or influential, the tax proposed by our amendment could be called an excise tax just as easily and just as correctly as can that term be applied to the tax proposed by the committee."

"3. The stroke of a pen will make the tax authorized by our amendment a tax upon the right to receive and enjoy a certain income; and it will be as well described as the tax which the committee insists upon, when it is said that it is laid upon the net income of corporations with respect to the carrying on of their business."

During Senator Cummins' comment on the receipts and expenditures of the government, Mr. Aldrich declared that with additional revenue to be provided by the corporation tax he would be greatly surprised if there is any deficit next year. His estimates of expenditures for the present year when the tariff bill was reported to the Senate, he said, was about $9,000,000 too high and he had, he said, congratulated himself that he had estimated within $2,000,000 of the annual receipts. The deficit for the present year, he added, would be about $60,000,000 and not as great as formerly estimated.

Again he declared that if the tariff bill becomes a law in its present form, it would next year produce an income of $350,000,000.

BONNIE MELROSE.

MELROSE, June 30.—Mrs. E. Husband, Mrs. A. W. Craig and Mrs. S. Sutton are setting a splendid example to the citizens of Melrose in the way they keep the vacant lots in their part of the town cleaned up. It certainly improves the looks of their own properties, and helps much towards keeping up the reputation of our town for being one of the tidest and prettiest in the State. Let others do likewise.

Rev. T. L. Z. Barr and family left yesterday afternoon for White Springs, where Mrs. Barr and the children will remain, while Mr. Barr will go on to Central Georgia, probably Clarksville, for a few weeks' rest. His many friends sincerely hope his health will be much improved by his vacation.

There will be no preaching in the Methodist church here during July, but the Sunday school and prayer meetings will go on as usual.

Rev. I. C. Jenkins, vice-president of Southern College, was expected to preach at the Methodist church on Monday evening, but did not reach here.

Miss Minnie Lee left yesterday for Cherry Sink to teach a two-months summer school.

W. H. Biggs, county superintendent of schools, Green Cove Springs, and Mr. Glissen of McRae were in town Saturday on school business.

Ross Norton had the misfortune to have the middle finger of his right hand dislocated by a baseball yesterday.

Miss Nora Mullin left yesterday for a long visit with her sister in Tampa. Her smiling face will be much missed at the postoffice window.

HAD ACCOMPLICES IN MURDER OF MISS SIGEL

Must Have Had Some One to Send Message from Washington, as He Was Elsewhere.

NEW YORK, June 30.—Information was at hand last night which for the first time since the discovery of the murderer of Elsie Sigel, eleven days ago, definitely establishes that Leon Ling must have had accomplices, and that a telegram signed with his name and in his writing was sent from Washington, he could not have been there on the date on which the message was sent. The police have also accounted in detail for the movements of the body as it was hurried hither and thither in panic, after the crime, up to the moment of its discovery in the bedroom of Leon Ling.

But though the detective force has a dozen men in neighboring towns of New Jersey and Inspector McCafferty reiterated last night his confidence that the murderer will be caught, there is nothing known publicly by which it can be inferred that his arrest is nearer than it has been at any time during the past week.

The police have definitely and clearly established that the trunk was carried from the Eighth avenue house in which the body was found, to a Chinese laundry at No. 370 West 126th street, thence to Newark, N. J., whence it was returned to the room of Leon Ling, where it was discovered. It has been shown, too, that Ling was personally busied in moving the trunk about.

It seems clear that to have been at the various places mentioned Leon Ling could not have spared the time for a trip to Washington. Those receiving him and the trunk all showed suspicious foreknowledge of his coming.

A Desperate Negro Was Killed in Dense Swamp

ADRIAN, Ga., June 30.—Fighting in a swamp with a cheap, small caliber pistol, Robert Jenkins, a negro accused of murder, yesterday held at bay a sheriff's posse until he had wounded two of them, and then exclaiming, "Lord, have mercy on my soul," dropped dead riddled with rifle and pistol balls.

Jenkins last week shot and killed George Howell, a farmer, and fatally wounded Mrs. Howell. He was tracked to the swamp early yesterday. The wounded possemen were not seriously hurt.

They are: W. S. Clements, who was shot in the foot, and Y. L. Hall, who was struck in the thigh by a pistol ball. Both live at Adrian. Practically every man in the posse sent lead into Jenkins' body. Mrs. Howell, though her case is regarded as almost hopeless, has surprised the attending physicians by her vitality. It is stated that Jenkins was found as the result of his efforts to obtain food at the home of a negro, who refused to aid him and sounded the alarm as soon as Jenkins left the house. The wife of Jenkins is in the jail here, and considerable excitement has been caused by the assertion that she planned a double murder, and ordered her husband to "shoot Mrs. Howell first." The negro's first shot dropped Mrs. Howell.

Siberian Exilers' Fierce Battle With Cossacks

SEATTLE, Wash., June 30.—A cable dispatch from Nome, Alaska, describes a bloody outbreak of Russian political prisoners in the Yakutsk district, Siberia, and the flight of mutineers across the wilderness towards Behring strait in an effort to reach Alaska.

The dispatch says: Advices from Vladimir station of the Northern Siberia Company across Behring strait are to the effect that a band of prisoners in the Yakutsk district revolted, killed the guards and started on a retreat of 2,000 miles for East Cape, where they planned to take small boats and make the mainland of Alaska, thirty-six miles away.

Capt. Kalinnikoff, acting governor of the district, ordered cossacks to overtake the prisoners. The fugitives in ambush killed four cossacks and wounded twelve others, forcing them to retreat.

Negro Bishops Complain About Discriminations

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Five African Methodist Episcopal church bishops who complained to the Interstate Commerce Commission that they were discriminated against by Southern railroads, and by the Pullman Company in transportation, dining cars and sleeping car facilities, have been informed by the commission that their complaint was not warranted.

The bishops were: Wesley J.

Gaines, H. M. Turner, Evans Tyre, C. S. Smith and E. W. Bampton. Their complaint was directed against the Seaboard Air Line, the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac, the Southern Railway, the Central of Georgia and the Pullman Company. It was alleged that the day coaches furnished for negro passengers in the Southern States were not equal

Brandenburg Declared Not Guilty of Larceny

NEW YORK, June 30.—Although Broughton Brandenburg was acquitted here yesterday of the charge of grand larceny in connection with the sale of an alleged spurious letter of Grover Cleveland to The New York Times he had only a few minutes of freedom. Before leaving the court room he was rearrested and will be taken to St. Louis next week for trial on a charge of fraudulently enticing from the child's parents his stepson, James Sheppard Cabanne, third. The maximum penalty for kidnapping in Missouri is twenty years' imprisonment. The author was taken back to the Tombs in default of $5,000 bail, to await the arrival of the Missouri officers.

The verdict of acquittal on the grand larceny charge was reached within a few minutes after the presiding justice had charged the jury that the question of genuineness of Cleveland's signature was immaterial and that even the question of genuineness of the article was only a secondary consideration. The primary consideration, he told them, was whether the defendant had stolen $500, the price paid for the article, from The New York Times. They must acquit the defendant, he continued, if they found that The Times had not relied on Brandenburg's statement as to the genuineness of the article, but had relied rather on the representation of F. S. Hastings, one of the Cleveland executors, whom they consulted before purchasing the article.

The extradition papers for Brandenburg's transfer to St. Louis are now in the hands of Gov. Hughes at Albany.

It is expected that they will reach New York today. The kidnapping which Brandenburg admits, occurred shortly after the writer jumped his bail while under indictment for the sale of the Cleveland article. He was found in San Francisco with the Cabanne boy whom he had picked up in St. Louis.

Pensacola Negro Kills Man Who Drew Knife

PENSACOLA, June 30.—Alleging that his adversary was advancing upon him with an open knife Matthew Thomas, janitor at the First National Bank, shot and almost instantly killed Frank Butler in the northwestern portion of the city at a late hour Monday night. The witnesses to the killing are all negroes, and the police, who arrived upon the scene long after the killing, summoned what witnesses that could be found to appear at the coroner's inquest. As is usual on Monday nights the negroes of the city gave a picnic in the northwestern suburbs, at a place known as Moro Castle. Monday night the crowds were more unruly than usual and there being no police in the vicinity proceeded to get disorderly. Thomas took it upon himself to quiet the negro Butler and the latter resented the interference and drawing a knife insisted that he would carve Thomas. The latter backed away until near a fence, then seeing that Butler really meant what he said, drew a revolver and killed him.

MISS LORNA MCCREDIE LEADS IN SOUTHERN

POLLS LARGEST VOTE, WITH MISS MABEL A CLOSE SECOND.

Miss Hattie English Holds Second, But Polled Light Vote in Contest of Wednesday.

As the time draws to a close interest increases in the great contest being conducted by the business houses of this city. During the past three days there has been some great changes made in the standing of the contestants, and in the Micanopy section the rivalry between Miss English and Miss Lorna McCredie is increasing, both polling an extra heavy vote, with Miss Mabel McCredie and Miss Martie Chamberlin close behind them.

There have also been some extra heavy jumps in the Northern and Western section, Misses Bryant, Powell, Kirkland and Ludwig polling the highest votes in the order named. Miss Beal, for the Gainesville section, is fast approaching her highest competitor, Miss Goode, and there is now a difference of less than 400,000 between these two candidates, the smallest majority the leader has had for some time.

Only about six weeks remain for the contestants to work, and if you get busy you can pile up an enormous amount of ballots between now and that time, and the prizes that are to be awarded are all worthy of getting out and losing the time to gain them. By special arrangements of The Sun, certificates will be issued which will be redeemable on any grade of instrument handled by the A. R. Harper Company. For instance, you can buy one of the instruments and let the certificate stand as part payment on any one piano that they handle at no advance in price.

Following is the result of the canvass:

POOR EXHIBITION OF THE GAME WEDNESDAY

HASTINGS WILL HAVE NEW PLAYERS FOR TODAY.

Claim That Interesting Game Will Be Witnessed on the Diamond.
in Today's Contest.

Oak Halls 17, Hastings 3.

A good sized crowd of spectators turned out yesterday to witness the game between the Oak Halls and a team supposed to represent Hastings. Soon after the game was called by Umpire McKinstry it was evident that the visitors were outclassed all around.

The Oak Halls started the run-getting in the first inning and kept it up till they were worn out from circling the bases. The visitors managed to score three runs, and these were made on errors.

A good game is assured today, for it is reported that a new set of players will arrive to play this afternoon, and the ones that played yesterday will carry water for them and watch their bats. Whoppee! Good!

We are prevented from giving the score by innings on account of being short of figures in totaling up the runs made by the home boys.

Don't forget the game Friday, for Palatka is coming to win.

FAN DOPE.

Rotten Potatoes!

Everyone hit well.

Potato Hoppers again today.

Taylor bunted for two bases.

Miller bunted and went to third.

Denton bunted and landed on third.

Our boys are good Potato (s) mash-ers.

Their second flinger didn't do so bad.

A bushel of new Potatoes will be on hand today.

We harvested a good crop yesterday—17 bushels.

A bunt was good for two and three bases yesterday.

Bullock made a nice stop yesterday, and did it with one finger, too.

Oak Halls were two days late getting into their old-time form—should have "been there" Monday.

About a handful of the fans were game and stuck it out to see the Potatoes alight from their air trip. They touched ground after the game.

NEGRO BISHOPS COMPLAIN ABOUT DISCRIMINATIONS

to those provided for white people; that negroes were denied sleeping cars solely on account of their color.

At the hearing of the case the complaint as to the day coaches was abandoned in view of the weight of testimony to the contrary; and with respect to the dining car facilities, the allegations were modified by concession. Most of the complainants and their witnesses testified that they actually did ride on sleeping cars.

It is held by the commission that undue discrimination or prejudice was not shown, and the complaint therefore was dismissed.

S.S.S. PURIFIES BAD BLOOD

Bad blood is responsible for most of our ailments, and when from any cause it becomes infected with impurities, humors or poisons, trouble in some form is sure to follow. Muddy, sallow complexions, eruptions, pimples, etc., show that the blood is infected with unhealthy humors which have changed it from a pure, fresh stream to a sour, acrid fluid, which forces out its impurities through the pores and glands of the skin. A very common evidence of bad blood is sores and ulcers, which break out on the flesh, often from a very insignificant bruise, or even scratch or abrasion. If the blood was healthy the place would heal at once; but being infected with impurities which are discharged into the wound, irritation and inflammation are set up, the fibres and tissues are broken, and the sore continues until the blood is purified of the cause. S. S. S. is Nature's blood-purifier and tonic, made entirely from roots, herbs and barks. It goes down into the circulation and removes every particle of impurity, humor or poison, restores lost vitality, and steadily tones up the entire system. S. S. S. neutralizes any excess of acid in the blood, making it pure, fresh and healthy, and permanently cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Boils, and all other skin eruption or disease. Book on the blood and any medical advice free.

CRAZED MAN ATTEMPTS TO KILL TWO PEOPLE

WAS BOARDING AT THE MAN'S HOME AT TIME.

Old Colored Woman Had Been Employed as a Nurse to Wait on Sick Wife.

J. M. Verner of Micanopy is now confined in the county jail, having attempted to kill T. W. Wynne and a negro woman by the name of Sanderson at his home near Micanopy on Tuesday night about 12 o'clock.

From what could be learned it seems that the man was crazed. He stated to Sheriff Ramsey when en route to this city that he had attempted to kill both parties and gave a credulous story to substantiate what he said: He was awakened at about 12 o'clock by the screams of his wife, he said, who was sleeping in an adjoining room, together with the old darkey woman, Sanderson, she being employed as a nurse, and that T. B. Wynn was also sleeping in the same room on a pallet at the time. On his entering the room he found Wynn in an uncompromising position with his wife. He at once struck at the man, knocking out a large piece of his head from the left forehead, and afterwards hit the negro on the head.

The wound received by Wynn will prove serious, so the doctors state, but in the case of the negro woman she will recover, and a preliminary hearing will be held in this city as soon as the wife can attend, and the fate of the man Wynn is known.

Verner also stated to Sheriff Ramsey after learning of his wife having made a statement, that he took a bottle and beat it up into small pieces and took several doses of it, but the physician at Micanopy gave him some medicine and up to a late hour last night he had shown no ill effects of having taken glass.

All parties are new-comers to the Micanopy section, and Verner was employed here as a drayman for J. E. Thrasher, while the man Wynn was boarding at his home. The negro woman had been employed as a nurse to wait on his wife during the next few weeks and was there for the pur-

Do You Get Up With a Lame Back?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everyone knows of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because of its remarkable health restoring properties. Swamp-Root fulfills almost every wish in overcoming rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and seething pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver, or bladder trouble, it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been thoroughly tested in private practice, and has proved so successful that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all druggists. Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

pose of looking after her during her coming sickness.

It is the general opinion of a number who have been communicated with that Verner was crazy, and that he has been mentally unbalanced for the past few weeks, in fact since his recovery from a case of typhoid fever.

IN MEMORIAM.

B. F. Dawkins, born in Union District, S. C., Jan. 21, 1849, died at his home in this city of paralysis the 28th inst., at 12:19 a. m. He was married Sept. 1, 1892, to Miss Adaline, daughter of E. A. Jeffords, late of this city. He leaves a wife and two girls, Misses Mary and Sarah, and also a sister, Mrs. John W. Trench. He was one of Major Joshua Dawkins and wife, Sarah (nee) Davidson, both of Union District, and the nephew of Judges James B. Dawkins of this city and Thomas N. Dawkins of South Carolina, and grandson of General Elijah Dawkins of the war with England in 1812. He was also a nephew-in-law to Congressman General James Rogers, a fast friend and contemporary of Andrew Jackson, and Hon. William T. Nuckolls, the friend and compatriot of John C. Calhoun and McRuff.

In the spring of 1865 he had just arrived at the age to be a junior reserve in the Confederate army and went out with Captain, now Judge, Townsend of Union District. He was reared in the Presbyterian faith, but since his marriage had affiliated with the Episcopal Church.

Being raised in affluence he bore the flings and arrows of outrageous fortune since the war patiently and labored as he was able to raise and educate his family. Wrongs he waived aside and pursued the even tenor of his way. He was not a man without faults, but having known him for forty and five years intimately, I can truthfully say that the good in him was immeasurably greater than the bad, for he was loyal always to his friends and charitable to all. May he rest in peace with all his kith and kin who preceded him through the shadowed valley, is the hope of his

SUMMER SCHOOLS TO OPEN NEXT MONDAY

Will Give Employment to Large Number of County Teachers During the Cull Season.

A large number of the summer schools of the county are to open on next Monday, all of the preliminary arrangements having been made by County Superintendent J. L. Kelley during the past few weeks.

In all there will be fourteen of these schools that will open up for the term on next Monday, and of this number there will be twenty-five or more teachers employed, which shows that the county assists in keeping things running during the long dull summer months.

Those to open next Monday are: Cherry Sink—Miss Minnie Lee. Jennings Lake—Miss M. A. McRae. Bartram—Miss Agnes Zetrouer. Townsend—Miss Bertha Love. Jaxville—Miss Mae Warner. Willeford—Miss Mayme Williams. Cow Creek—Miss Ruby Love. Grover—Miss Lillie Love. Suwannee—Miss Ella Fuqua. Thomas—Miss Ada Hague. Hickory Hill—Miss Clara Thomas. Cleveland—Miss Sophia Reinohl. Roadfield—Miss Pearl Futch.

Still Held the Grudge.

Medium (at seance)—Is there a Mrs. Kersmith in the audience? Her first husband wishes to converse with her.

Mrs. Kersmith—There is, but you can tell him I don't care to have any confabulations with him. Tell him that when I went to collect his life insurance I found he'd let it lapse.—Chicago Tribune.

A Boy's Definition.

A bright schoolboy defined "anodyne" as "something to a sausage pan" and then brought Webster's Unabridged to his skeptical teacher with his finger pointing triumphantly to the words "serving to assuage pain."

Futures.

"There goes a man who has made a great deal of money dealing in futures."

"A wheat speculator?"
"No; a fortune teller."—Baltimore American.

Quite a Change.

"Percy is getting used to public speaking, isn't he?"

"Oh, yes. I remember when you could hardly get him to stand up, and now you can hardly get him to sit down."

Competition between the several Rockefeller pastors as to which one of them best interprets the tenets of the doctrine seems as acute as any the oil magnate himself encountered when grappling with his own problem.

If this Government had a "finance committee" as capable and keen to devise ways to save revenue as the Senate Finance Committee is to raise it, there would be no necessity for sitting up nights to find new subjects of taxation.

It is said that the English language is loaded down with 60,000 useless words. We do not know whether that is or is not an exaggeration, but it does not require much reflection to realize how few words are sufficient for ordinary conversation. In almost every community in this country there are Americans whose vocabulary by which they express all their wants and opinions is limited to a few hundred words, and even that of a university graduate does not exceed 4,000 words.

In a letter to The St. Augustine Record, Mr. John O'Connor, of the Oriental Hotel, Manhattan Beach, N. Y., manager of the Florida House in that city during the winter, writes the following interesting paragraph: "About three weeks ago, while down in the market, I noticed some new corn on the cob. I asked where it came from and they told me Gainesville, Fla. This is the first new corn from Florida that I have ever seen in a Northern market. It was a very fine article indeed, and was listed on the swell restaurant bills of fare in town as 'Florida corn on the cob,' and brought, during the first week, $1.25 a portion (two ears). I thought this pretty fair for Florida."

DISTRIBUTION OF WEALTH.

It is a great thing in a nation's life to reach the point where the accumulation of wealth beyond the necessities of existence give to the people a wide range of possibilities in the use of their surplus. But it is even a greater thing, says The Wall Street Journal, to find that the distribution of these accumulations is such as to conform in some reasonable measure with sentiments of justice. Wherever the possession of wealth is so distributed as to leave the impression in the minds of a large portion of the people that the dictates of justice are violated, there is bound to be a difficult social problem.

The mechanism of distribution in the ordinary course of economic forces is by the competitive activity of capital, labor and managing ability, as well as by the control of natural resources and opportunities. But there are so many limitations upon the free play of economic forces that the patience of the public has not been willing to await the final outcome of economic law as a distributor of wealth. Under free contract, which is the main form under which distribution of wealth has occurred, the few with vast wealth at their control have an enormous advantage over the many acting as individuals. Hence the rise of unionism in collective effort in the ranks of labor to meet the aggregations of wealth in the form of the corporation.

But this applies to a limited number of people out of the entire population. Part of the inequality which is left over from the imperfection of free contract in distribution is eliminated by a second distributive method, that is, by free gift, bequest and such other forms as involved the free disposition of property and possessions. The munificent contributions of men of wealth to public institutions in the United States, running into many millions a year, is proof of the presence of this distributive force to an unusual extent.

A third method of distribution is that of taxation. The general application of the income tax in European states, the use of the inheritance tax in many of our State commonwealths, and the determination of the Federal administration to impose a direct tax on the net earnings of corporations, all show a widespread tendency to resort to legal method of accomplishing something more than has been done under the free play of economic law or by the right of gift and bequest. The net earnings tax as a distributive factor means the transfer of from twenty-five to sixty million dollars a year from the treasuries of corporations to the Federal Treasury for expenditure in public purposes.

The transfer of so much wealth from private purposes to public funds may or may not mean a wider distribution of benefits. Whether in the end so much wealth transferred from private to public possession will enrich or impoverish the country is entirely problematical. It all depends on whether the uses to which it is put in public hands will leave the country in a better or worse state of productive efficiency. One thing is certain, however, that the function of government in the distribution of wealth is an increasing function and has to be reckoned with in the forecasts of investment and speculation.

In spite of the fact that the population of Ireland has decreased half a million since 1881 prosperity seems to be returning, for the amount of savings in the banks has increased in the same period from $160,000,000 to $315,000,000. The principal cause of this better financial condition is credited to the dairy industry, which has been wonderfully developed on scientific principles to the great gain of the farmers. It is expected, and not without reason, that this returning prosperity, especially if it reveals itself in other industries, will stop the tide of emigration.

Partly because of the impetus given by the construction of the Panama canal and partly by reason of the inability of railroads to handle all the crops of wheat, corn, cotton and other products, water transportation is rapidly becoming popular again. For many years it was somewhat in disfavor, but if the present feeling lasts it will not be many years before the deep waterways are developed, new canals constructed and present ones enlarged.

Read the want ads. in today's Sun.

Large city dailies sometimes delight to make fun of the personal items that appear in the country press. They make merry over the mention of people visiting each other and in the little incidents that occur in the village or town society life. But the city dailies are themselves addicted to the same practice, as everyone knows who looks at the society notes. To be sure those papers may say that they only mention the doings of wealthy or prominent people. But wealthy and prominent are relative terms only and the movements and experiences of people in the small community are of just as much genuine interest to that community as are the doings of the Goulds, Fields and others to the people of New York and Chicago, and probably more so, for reasons that are obvious.

Negotiations are expected in the near future looking toward the final organization of a Pan-American bank, with branches throughout South and Central America, by some of our leading financiers. If these negotiations are carried to a successful issue the long felt want of closer commercial relations with the flourishing republics of the South will have been filled and new markets opened for American productions.

AIM TO SUCCEED.

The Self Improvement Habit as a Business Asset.

The very reputation of having an ambition to amount to something in the world, of having a grand life aim, is worth everything, says a writer in Success Magazine. The moment your associates find that you are dead in earnest, that you mean business, that they cannot shake you from your determination to get on in the world or rob you of your time or persuade you to waste it in frivolous things you will not only be an inspiring example to them, but the very people who are throwing away their time will also admire your stand, respect it and profit by it, and you will thus be able to protect yourself from a thousand annoyances and time wasters and experiences which would only hinder you.

In other words, there is everything in declaring yourself, in taking a stand and thereby announcing to the world that you do not propose to be a failure or an ignoramus; that you are going to prepare yourself for something out of the ordinary, away beyond mediocrity, something large and grand.

The moment you do this you stand out in strong contrast from the great mass of people who are throwing away their opportunities and have not grit and stamina enough to do anything worth while or to make any great effort to be somebody in the world.

First Omnibus.

"Omnibus" was an almost brand new word in its modern sense when Shilliber took it from the French in 1829, and in France the name possessed a special significance for those who knew their history, for from 1672 to 1676 Paris had already seen a regular service of roomy public vehicles, "carrosses a cinq sous." Only these predecessors of the modern bus were not "omnibus"—for all. The letters patent which instituted them for the benefit of middle class people laid down that they were not to be used by soldiers, lackeys or any other wearers of livery or artisans and laborers. These exclusive vehicles faded out of existence, and the new ones, which were started in Paris in 1828, were named "omnibus" expressly to signify their democratic character. — London Chronicle.

Widows' Caps.

The widow's cap is a survival of an old Roman custom. Widows were obliged to wear their weeds for ten months, and the bereaved woman shaved her head as a token of mourning. Naturally the widow could not very well appear in public with a bald head, so dainty caps were made in order to hide the disfigurement. The cap still remains, though the immediate necessity for its existence has long passed away. — Boston Herald.

BILIOUS?

CHANGED HIS MIND.

Influence of a Game of Golf Upon a Man's Life.

A New York pastor received a call in his study one morning not long ago from a man with whom he had a pleasant but not intimate acquaintance. And the visitor told him without much ado that he had called on a peculiar errand.

"Some time ago," he said, "as you know, I lost my wife. I have no children, I have no kinsfolk, and I am very lonely in the world. Last week, by an unlucky speculation, I lost my whole fortune. I am therefore without companionship, without occupation, without money. I am too old to start again, and I have no joy in life as it is. I have deliberately decided, therefore, to commit suicide. And I called to tell you of my purpose and to ask the favor of you that when my body is found you will make such an explanation as your good judgment and kindly feeling toward me may suggest. I have come simply to ask this favor and not to argue the question, which I have settled for myself. If you do me this last service I shall be very grateful."

The preacher said little and was far too wise to undertake to dissuade him, but he permitted the man to say all that he had to say without interruption.

Then as he was going away the preacher called to him and said: "I have not seen you on the golf links for some time. You use to enjoy the game."

"Yes," said the other. "Well, go out and play one more game today before you carry out your purpose."

The man smiled for the first time and went to the golf course and—he is living yet.—World's Work.

Old Time Gas Charges.

The price of gas in the early part of the last century is shown by a schedule of charges issued by the Liverpool Gaslight company in the year 1817. Instead of so much per cubic foot being levied each individual burner was charged for, and the price varied according to the hour at which the light was to be extinguished. Thus for using one No. 1 Argand burner up till 8 p. m. £3 per annum had to be paid. For the right to keep it alight until 9 £3 18s. was the figure, while those roistering blades who sat up till 10, 11 or 12 had to disburse £4 10s., £5 12s. and £6 8s. respectively. Imagine the gas bill at a house where ten or twelve burners are flaring away until the small hours if such a method of taxation were in force nowadays!—Liverpool Post.

Insincerity.

"Our civilization demands a greater or less degree of mendacity," remarked the abstruse person. "We are constantly encountering some empty phrase, some conventional remark, which is absolutely devoid of sincerity."

"That's right," answered the book agent. "That's perfectly true. I am reminded of it every time I walk up to the front step where there is a doormat with the word 'welcome' on it."—Washington Star.

Advantageous Promptitude.

Henry IV. of France particularly liked answers to his questions given quickly and without preparation. On one occasion, meeting an ecclesiastic, he said to him: "Where do you come from? Where are you going? What do you want?"

"From Bourges; to Paris; a living," replied the cleric promptly.

"You shall have it!" cried the prince.

"I suffered habitually from constipation. Doan's Regulets relieved and strengthened the bowels, so that they have been regular ever since."—A. E. Davis, grocer, Sulphur Springs, Tex.

THE CORDON BLEU.

At First an Order For Women Cooks Established by Louis XV.

When you hear a man spoken of as a "cordon bleu" you know he is a great cook, but few people have any idea of how and when the expression originated. The cordon bleu was at first an order for women cooks. It was established by a king—which makes it a real, proper order. Louis XV. once asserted to Mme. du Barry that only men could cook really well. The famous beauty challenged the assertion, but the king insisted that he was right—that women might be all right for boiling potatoes and performing the simpler operations of cooking, but that when it came to a work of art it took a man.

Soon after this argument the royal favorite invited the king to dinner. He praised every dish; he even expressed his just approval of the menu as a whole. Then his hostess triumphantly announced to him that the entire dinner had been prepared by women, from the arrangement of the menu and the selection of the dishes to the preparation of the sauces and the sweets and the serving of the several plats. Accordingly she claimed the foundation of an order of merit for her female cooks. The claim was at once granted, and the cordon bleu was first conferred upon the women of Mme. du Barry's kitchen.

Gourmets of today would be inclined to say that, however great the cooks of Mme. du Barry may have been in their day, the dictum of Louis XV. would be true today. There are now few great hotels or restaurants in the world in which cookery is a fine art where the chef is not a man.—New York World.

Ambergris.

The essential characteristic of ambergris is the penetrating and peculiar odor, similar to that of musk. It is so powerful and so diffusive in its perfume that the most minute quantity when mingled with any other strong scent is still perceptible. Its chief component is a fatty matter called ambrein, which is got by boiling ambergris in alcohol.

WASHING WITHOUT WATER

Is Like Trying to Get Rid of Dandruff Without Herpicide.

Did you ever see any one trying to wash themselves without soap or water?

If you did what would you say of him?

It is every bit as foolish to try to get rid of Dandruff and to prevent Baldness by feeding the germs which cause it, with Cantharides, Vaseline, Glycerine and similar substances which form the principal ingredients of most so-called Hair Vigors.

Newbro's Herpicide is successful because it attacks and kills the parasitic germ which feeds on the hair roots.

It is the original and only genuine scalp germicide manufactured.

The Value of Good Digestion

Is easy to figure if you know what your stomach is worth. Kodol keeps the stomach at par value, by insuring good digestion. Kodol cures Dyspepsia.

Kodol insures good digestion by absolutely duplicating Nature's normal process, in perfectly digesting all food taken into the stomach.

While Kodol is doing this, the stomach is resting—and becoming strong and healthy. A strong and healthy stomach guarantees a sound and active brain.

The man with a sound stomach—a stomach that is doing for the body just what Nature intended it to do—is the man who is always prepared for any emergency. He is "there with the goods."

The man with a sick stomach, is a man sick all over. When the stomach is irritated by undigested food, the blood and heart are directly affected. Then dullness, unnatural sleepiness, sick-headaches, vertigo and fainting spells, and even serious brain trouble develop. Kodol will prevent these.

Spurring the stomach and brain to special effort by "tonics" and "stimulants" doesn't cure anything, or accomplish any good. Neither does dieting. Indigestion and the serious ailments which it induces can be averted and corrected only by natural means.

Kodol supplies this natural means. It performs the stomach's work for it—just as the stomach should perform it—while the stomach takes a little rest, "for the stomach's sake."

Our Guarantee

Go to your druggist today and get a dollar bottle. Then after you have used the entire contents of the bottle if you can honestly say that it has not done you any good, return the bottle to the druggist and he will refund your money without question or delay. We will then pay the druggist for the bottle. Don't hesitate, all druggists know that our guarantee is good. This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family. The large bottle contains 2½ times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

TELEPHONE TALKS

The Long Distance System

One of the most valuable features of our service, to our subscribers and to the public generally, is our connection with the extensive long distance lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the other associated Bell Telephone companies.

We own thousands of miles of long distance lines in the seven States in which we operate and in addition can connect any telephone in our system with lines extending to any other city in which a Bell Telephone system is operated.

These long distance lines are of the most modern and improved construction and are maintained at a high state of efficiency. The Bell systems, operating in various sections of the country, are uniform in their equipment and in their methods of operating.

Only by reason of this close traffic arrangement between the Bell Telephone companies is it possible to go to a Bell Telephone almost anywhere, ask for "Long Distance" and be put in communication with almost any point in the country.

This vast network of wires, radiating throughout the nation, is used daily in commerce and for social purposes by the banker, the farmer and citizens in all walks of life and our plant here is an important link in this great chain.

BRIBERY IN RUSSIA.

An incident of the reign of the "Czar-Liberator."

An old and long retired Russian general, a man of the "old school," related the following story in illustration of the official bribery that prevails in Russia, the incident being one within his own personal knowledge:

During the reign of Alexander II., the "czar-liberator," the widow of a distinguished general endeavored to obtain an appointment in a certain ministry for her only son, a young man of superior education and intelligence. The minister promised the widow to reserve the first occurring vacancy in his department. She waited in vain for the fulfillment of the promise and twice repeated her appeal by letter. She learned, too, that in the meantime several vacancies had been filled by other candidates.

The widow then waited upon the emperor and told his majesty of the minister's broken promises and her own keen disappointment, and after a few moments' consideration the czar asked her if she had inclosed a gift of money to the minister with her written application.

"Why, certainly not, your majesty. I should not dare put such an affront upon his excellency."

"Do not trouble yourself about the affront, madame," replied the czar, "but renew your proшение to the minister and inclose $1,000 to him."

"But I have no such sum of money, your majesty," said the widow dolefully.

"Oh, as to that, I will lend you the money, and the minister will no doubt repay me, and you will inform me, please, of the result of your renewed application with the inclosure."

The widow sent her son to the minister with the $1,000 lent by the czar inclosed with a politely written note, the result being that the young man received the desired appointment the same day.

About a week later the minister had just concluded his customary official report to the czar when his majesty observed, "By the way, there is a very intelligent and promising young man, the son of the late General —, for whom you can perhaps find a fairly prospective position in your department."

"But, your majesty," said the minister, "that young man is already in my department, and I should say that he is likely to make a career for himself."

"Tell me, please," quietly asked the czar, "how much did this youth's mother pay you for the appointment?"

The minister was too wily and tactful outwardly to manifest his surprise and chagrin, and he knew, too, that his safety demanded a perfectly candid reply to his sovereign.

"Would your majesty be interested," he said, "to hear what I myself paid for the influence which procured my portfolio from your gracious hands? The total sum was $22,500, and, relatively speaking, I do not think, with all humility, that this lady has paid at all dearly for the prospects of her son."

The minister repaid to the czar the $1,000 and was not unkindly dismissed from the audience, and he also retained his portfolio.—Odessa Cor. London Standard.

The African Buffalo.

A wounded buffalo is vastly more dangerous when he runs away than when he charges, for in nine cases out of ten after a dash that may be for a few hundred yards or a mile he will revengefully circle back to an interception of his own trail, stand hidden in grass or thicket until his pursuer comes plodding along the trail and then charge upon him. Despite the fierce temper of a lone bull, his savage cunning and his great, charging bulk, I believe him much less dangerous than the lion, for he has far less speed, lacks the lion's poisoned claws and is a much bigger target. This opinion is substantiated by the indisputable fact that at least ten men are killed or mangled by lion to one killed by buffalo.—Edgar Beecher Bronson in Century.

The Temple of Zeus.

All that remains of the great temple of Zeus, which was 700 years in building, is to be found about 150 yards from the foot of the Acropolis at Athens. The ruins consist of sixteen columns of the Corinthian order, six and one-half feet in diameter and sixty feet high. It was the second largest temple erected by the Greeks, one superior to it in size being the temple of Diana at Ephesus. According to a legend, its foundation was built by Dukalion, the Greek Noah, who from this point witnessed the waters of the flood subside. An opening in the ground is said to be the orifice through which the flood disappeared.

Result of Rashness.

"Out of a job, are you?" asked the first girl. "Boss catch you flirting?" "No; I caught the boss. Say, what sort of a wedding dress do you think is real swell?"—Philadelphia Ledger.

HE COULD DRAW.

Artemus Ward on His Own Connection With the Art.

On the occasion of Artemus Ward's professional visit to London, which occurred not long before his death, J. E. Preston, Muddock says in his book, "Pages From an Adventurous Life," that the American humorist's advertisements of his "show" were as full of funny surprises as the lectures themselves. One that tickled the general public was this:

Artemus Ward Delivered Lectures Before All the Crowned Heads of Europe Ever Thought of Delivering Lectures.

And an excerpt from his lecture on "Drawing" is quoted by Mr. Muddock as a particularly delightful bit.

"I haven't distinguished myself as an artist," Ward said in his inimitable way, "but have always been mixed up in art. I have an uncle who takes photographs in his spare moments, and I have a servant who takes everything he can lay his hands on at any moment."

"At a very tender age I could draw on wood. When a mere child I once drew a small cart load of raw turnips over a wooden bridge. It was a raw morning. The people of the village recognized me. They said it was a raw turnip drawing. That shows how faithfully I had copied nature. I drew their attention to it, so you see there was a lot of drawing in it."

"The villagers, with the wonderful discernment peculiar to villagers, said I had a future before me. As I was walking backward when I made my drawing I replied that I thought that my future must be behind me."

Hannibal in Italy.

Hannibal entered northern Italy in the year 218 B. C. and gained during that year the two victories of Trebia and Trasimene, both in Cisalpine Gaul. The next year he advanced further south and defeated the Romans at Cannae, and the year following, having proceeded still farther south, he inflicted upon them the terrible defeat at Cannae, at which time his ascendancy attained its maximum. He remained for thirteen years longer, but gained no more decisive victories. He was finally recalled by the authorities at Carthage, who had never given him anything like a decent support.—New York American.

All the Difference.

Among the patients in the private ward of a Philadelphia hospital there was recently a testy old millionaire of that city whose case gave his physician considerable difficulty at first.

"Well," asked the crusty patient one morning, "how do you find me now, eh?"

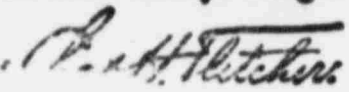

"You're getting on fine," responded the doctor, rubbing his hands with an air of satisfaction. "Your legs are still swollen, but that doesn't trouble me."

"Of course it doesn't!" howled the old man. "And let me tell you this: If your legs were swollen, it wouldn't trouble me either!"—Lippincott's.

The Lark's Song.

A writer on "The Wonders of the Spring" says that the volume of sound produced by the skylark is most wonderful. "The lark ascends until it appears no larger than a midge and can with difficulty be seen by the unaided eye, and yet every note of its song will be clearly audible to persons who are fully half a mile from the nest over which the bird utters its song. Moreover, it never ceases to sing for a moment, a feat which seems wonderful to us human beings, who find that a song of six or seven minutes in length, though interspersed with rests and pauses, is more than trying. Yet this bird will pour out a continuous song of nearly twenty minutes in length and all the time has to support itself in the air by the constant use of its wings."

The Right Word.

"Why do you speak of him as a finished artist?" "Because he told me he was utterly discouraged and was going to quit the profession. If that doesn't show that he's finished I don't know what does."—Chicago Post.

The Plain Part of It.

"Did the young man they caught in fraudulent transactions speculate very much?"

"I donno about that, but he stole a lot!"—Baltimore American.

ABOUT ADVERTISING—NO. 3

How to Write Retail Advertising Copy

By Herbert Kaufman.

A skilled layer of mosaics works with small fragments of stone—they fit into more places than the larger chunks.

The skilled advertiser works with small words—they fit into more minds than big phrases.

The simpler the language the greater certainty that it will be understood by the least intelligent reader.

The construction engineer plans his road-bed where there is a minimum of grade—he works along the lines of least resistance.

The advertisement which runs into mountainous style is badly surveyed—all minds are not built for high level thinking.

Advertising must be simple. When it is tricked out with the jewelry and silks of literary expression it looks as much out of place as a ball dress at the breakfast table!

The buying public is only interested in facts. People read advertisements to find out what you have to sell.

The advertiser who can fire the most facts in the shortest time gets the most returns. Blank cartridges make noise but they do not hit—blank talk, however clever, is only wasted space.

You force your salesmen to keep to solid facts—you don't allow them to sell muslin with quotations from Omar or trousers with excerpts from Marie Corelli. You must not tolerate in your printed selling talk anything that you are not willing to countenance in personal salesmanship.

Cut out clever phrases if they are inserted to the sacrifice of clear explanations—write copy as you talk. Only be more brief. Publicity is costlier than conversation—ranging in price downward from $6.00 a line, talk is not cheap but the most expensive commodity in the world.

Sketch in your ad to the stenographer. Then you will be so busy "saying it" that you will not have time to bother about the gewgaws of writing. Afterwards take the type-written manuscript and cut out every word and every line that can be erased without omitting an important detail. What remains in the end is all that really counted in the beginning.

Cultivate brevity and simplicity. "Savon Francais" may look smarter, but more people will understand "French Soap." Sir Isaac Newton's explanation of gravitation covers six pages, but the schoolboy's terse and homely "What goes up must come down" clinches the whole thing in six words.

GAINESVILLE,

—THE—
University City.

Gainesville is conceded to be the most enterprising as well as the most beautiful city in the interior of Florida. It is located in the very center of the State, half way between the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, surrounded by lands of such fertility as to be capable of producing a great variety of crops; in the heart of the truck-growing, phosphate and naval stores belt. She has the best educational advantages in the State, good churches, with edifices which are superior to any town of its size in Florida, with large and consistent congregations; has a climate which cannot be excelled for health and pleasure. All these natural advantages, combined with a progressive and enterprising cosmopolitan citizenship, are sure to make a big city.

There are many natural attractions in close proximity to the city, some of which are Alachua Sink, Paines Prairie, the Devil's Mill Hopper, Warren's Cave, and Lake Newnan, all of which are reached by private conveyance.

Spring Park Stock Farm, the largest and finest live stock farm in the State, is only eight miles west of the city and is reached by a good hard road, affording a most pleasant drive.

The farmers of Alachua county, of which Gainesville is the county seat, "live at home and board at the same place." The temperature is very uniform, scarcely ever reaching the nineties in summer or the twenties in winter. The population of Gainesville is about eight thousand, representing nearly every nationality on the face of the earth, and strangers always meet with a hearty welcome.

The University of Florida for young men and the National Agricultural Experiment Station are located within the corporate limits of the city. In fact, Gainesville has so many things that we must be pardoned if we omit a few of them in the following enumeration of what

TWO PIANOS AND A DIAMOND RING

Total Cash Value, $1,000.00

To Be Given Away by the Merchants and The Sun to Citizens of Alachua County!

Each Section Gets Prizes!

Contest to Close August 18, 1909

Realizing that all should share alike in the distribution, leading business houses have joined in the combination to give away Two Handsome Pianos and One Diamond Ring to residents of Alachua county in three different sections. These progressive firms will give One Vote for each penny spent with them.

In the event of a tie for any prize offered, a prize similar in all respects thereto will be given each of those tying.

THE A. R. HARPER PIANO CO. of Jacksonville, from whom the pianos for this contest were purchased, have agreed to offer extra prizes as follows: To the first five candidates in each district, excepting the winners of the capital prizes in the said districts, one certificate each for $100.00 which will be redeemable in cash as a payment on any piano handled by them—the Everett, Harvard, Dayton or John Church Pianos. In addition to this they will give a certificate good for $25 to all other contestants in the race, and will make special arrangements with anyone to take care of their paper on all purchases of instruments at the cash price.

The Gainesville Section Will embrace the city and suburbs and be confined to a radius of four miles in each direction. The winner in this district will be awarded a HANDSOME DIAMOND RING.

Eastern and Southern Section Will comprise territory from Fairbanks all points east and from Rochelle all points south—Waldo, Hawthorn, Island Grove, Campville, Micanopy, Lake View, Tacoma and all points along line of T. & J. Ry. ONE PIANO.

Western and Northern Section Will comprise all stations from Hague to High Springs, Trenton, Wannee, Wilcox, Bell, Newberry, Jonesville, Archer and all settlements covered by this area. ONE PIANO.

Quiet Hour Services.

Quiet hour services will be held in the Presbyterian church this afternoon and Friday, beginning at 4:30 o'clock. These services are purely devotional in character, much of the time being given to intercession for persons and objects specially mentioned in requests for prayer. They are intended for the quickening and deepening of the spiritual life, the awakening of the sense of personal responsibility and for stimulation to consecration for service. The members of the congregation of the First Presbyterian church and all others who love the quiet hour with God are invited to attend these services.

WILL LOCATE HERE.

Gallant South Carolinian to Make Gainesville His Home.

Editor Sun: I see in your issue of Wednesday a note of the arrival of "Gen. Iron Richburg" of South Carolina, and his association with me during the Civil War. Your reporter, however, did not get the name right. It should be Gen. R. N. Richburg. A brief sketch of Gen. Richburg will interest the many South Carolinians in the State. He and I were boys together and schoolmates in Columbia S. C., where we were both raised. I had not seen him in forty-three years until I recognized him on the train to Jacksonville last Saturday. When I addressed him by name he evidently took me for a lunatic, and until I told him my name he failed utterly to recognize me. My nickname at school was "Doc," and in a few moments it was "Rufe" and "Doc," as in the old days when we were boys together. At the first call to arms in 1861, we both went to Charleston S. C., he in an infantry company and I in a cavalry. We both were there when the "Star of the West," in his attempt to reinforce Fort Sumter, was fired upon by our batteries and forced to abandon his purpose. We both were there when a few weeks later Maj. Robert Anderson, commanding Fort Sumter, after a gallant defense was compelled to surrender. A little later we both went to Virginia, he is a member of the color guard of the First South Carolina Infantry, Col. Maxey Gregg, afterwards General Gregg, and killed at Antietam, I as a private in Company C, Cavalry of the Hampton Legion. There we separated, and except once, forty-three years ago, we never met until Saturday. At the battle of Gaines Mill (Seven Pines) James H. Taylor, my wife's youngest brother, not 16 years old, after being shot three times, fell dead under his flag, he being the color bearer. Gen. Richburg was in five feet of him when he fell, and was himself a few minutes later shot through the hand. He was himself only 17 years of age and, declining to go to the rear, fought the battle through. At the battle of Sharpsburg he was a lieutenant of his company and was shot squarely through the right lung. The surgeons could never find the bullet. Thirty-three years later he had a rising below his left shoulder blade, near the spine, which he mistook for a carbuncle, which his wife was treating with poultices. One morning in taking the poultice off the bullet dropped out of the "boil," and is now one of the General's most cherished mementoes. In the famous Darlington, S. C., riots during the radical regime Gen. Richburg, as general of State troops, was in absolute command of the Democratic, or white forces.

General Richburg, as the representative of the Equitable Life Insurance Company of New York, has decided to make Gainesville his home, and, with his accomplished wife, who will join him here in the near future, will be valuable and agreeable acquisitions to both the business and social circles of our beautiful little city.

A Great Clearance Sale.

The G. W. Hyde Company have announced welcome news to those who did not succeed in supplying their wants at the Great Syndicate Sale just over. They will put on a Grand Clearance Sale to clean up the entire lot of Syndicate goods and their line in general. The splendid success of their Great Syndicate Sale is the best proof that a really genuine clearance sale will prove equally attractive, and it's gratifying news to the trading public that this wonderfully up-to-date store is preparing to give another ten-days' feast of bargains. The great buying advantages the Hyde Company have over other stores enables them to show on their counters the best merchandise at sensational prices.

Encourage these sales, as it's a great saving to the users of fine dry goods.

RELEASED ON BOND.

Preliminary or Priest Parker Will Be Heard at Later Day.

Priest Parker, who shot and wounded Fletcher DeRose a couple of weeks since, and who has been confined in jail pending the condition of the wounded negro, was released from custody yesterday.

It seems that the negro DeRose is fast regaining his strength and strong hopes are entertained for his recovery at an early date. Indications were so favorable that a certificate from the physician was secured and the matter taken before Judge Mason who ordered Parker's release upon a good bond.

Will Visit Eastern Cities.

Drs. B. M. Tison and J. P. Ambrose will leave today for Baltimore, to be absent during the next six or eight weeks. Dr. Tison will enter one of the hospitals for the time, while Mr. Ambrose goes mainly for pleasure, but will take advantage of all opportunities offered which will prove beneficial to him in his profession as a druggist.

Starved to Death

Is what could truthfully be said of many children who die. They have worms, poor little things—they don't know it and you don't realize it. If your child is cross, fretful, pasty-complexioned and loses weight for no apparent reason, give it White's Cream Vermifuge—you will be surprised at the results and how quickly it picks up. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Appealed the Case.

Bill Nelson, who was charged with beating his wife, was given a hearing before Judge Carlisle Wednesday morning and fined $10 and costs or ninety days in the county gang at hard labor. He took an appeal to the next term of circuit court.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF BOARD OF CONTROL

Col. P. K. Yonge Succeeds N. P. Bryan as Chairman of This Important Body.

The Jacksonville Metropolis of Monday says:

"A meeting of the new Board of Control of State Educational Institutions was held this morning at the office of N. P. Bryan, in the Dyab-Upchurch building. The first business was the election of P. K. Yonge of Pensacola as chairman of the board, to succeed N. P. Bryan, whose time had expired.

"A proposition was considered for erecting an addition to the University of Florida, at Gainesville, to be known as Science Hall and Experiment Station. It was estimated that this addition would cost $80,000, and the plans of the new structure will be drawn on a scale which will conform with the beauty and lines of the other buildings. The contracts for these improvements will be let at the first meeting in August.

The Law Department.

"The law department of the University will be opened on the first Wednesday in September. This branch of the University will be in charge of A. J. Farrah, former dean of the law department of Stetson University, and Prof. H. R. Trusler, who was also connected with the law school of Stetson.

"The course in legal studies will cover two years and the graduates will have all the privileges enjoyed by other law schools of Florida. A handsome library will be purchased for the use of students, and it is the purpose of the Board of Control to make the legal college the equal of any in the Southern States.

Lectures by Lawyers.

"To those who are interested in law practice the establishment of this department at the University at Gainesville will be interesting and the course of the young men entering for a knowledge of law will be watched closely. It has been decided to have a course of lectures by various prominent lawyers of Florida, announcement of which will be made later on.

"Those who attended this morning's meeting were P. K. Yonge of Pensacola, E. L. Wartmann of Citra, T. B. King of Arcadia, W. D. Finlayson of Old Town and F. P. Fleming of Jacksonville. They were very enthusiastic over the prospects of the University, and especially with the proposition to establish a law department.

"The work of enrolling students for the University will be taken up at once, and the members of the Board of Control are satisfied that the opening of the term will see a large number of students on the list."

NEWS FROM ARCHER.

ARCHER, June 29.—Mrs. Arthur Reed and daughter, Miss Lillian, and son, John Arthur, returned Saturday from a very pleasant visit of a few days to relatives at Inverness.

S. S. Smith, who has been employed as bookkeeper by the Maddox Foundry & Machine Co., left Saturday to accept a position in Jacksonville.

Mrs. George Fleming and two children returned Sunday afternoon from a visit of several days to relatives in Jacksonville.

J. E. Crumpton, the popular manager of the White House, has got a "grin" on him this morning. Another permanent guest arrived at his home yesterday evening. He is a fine 10-pound boy. Mother and child roing nicely.

Miss Ida Chamblin expects to leave

Saturday for Tennessee and other States. She will be gone until the summer is over.

Mrs. Edwin Thomas and little daughter, Maud, returned Sunday afternoon from a couple of days' visit to Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Jernigan of Quincy arrived last evening to spend several days with Mrs. Jernigan's brother, H. Maddox, and family.

Mrs. Kramer of Waldo is spending several days with her husband at this place.

If this Government had a "finance committee" as capable and keen to devise ways to save revenue as the Senate Finance Committee is to raise it, there would be no necessity for sitting up nights to find new subjects of taxation.

The Summer Normal Had Very Fine Opening Monday

From Tuesday's Daily Sun:

The Gainesville section of the State Summer Normal opened Monday morning with a full attendance. Dr. Murphree is detained in Jacksonville on important business, and Maj. Floyd is in charge. The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. F. R. Bridges, pastor of the First Methodist church.

The enrollment revealed a higher average and a higher degree of scholarship than in any previous year. This speaks well for the educational uplift the Summer Normals have given to the educators of the State. The large number taking State certificate work is most gratifying.

Alachua county is represented in the student body by the following: Miss Lella Roper, Dunlap; Miss Mary Berkstresser, Hawthorn; Miss Willie Jones, Rochelle; Miss Lula Ormond, Hawthorn; Prof. M. M. Bryant, Waldo; O. C. Bryant, Waldo; Miss Ramon Fouraker, Miss Emily Davis, Miss Lillian B. Ralph, Miss Willie Robertson, Miss Leona Robertson, Gainesville, one less than a dozen. Are the Alachua county teachers so proficient that they do not need the Normal? Of course others will come in.

The faculty selected by State Superintendent Holloway is strong and enthusiastic. Each member brings ripe scholarship and ripe experience.

The students of the South Florida Normal Institute are very much in evidence. Messrs. Salter Blanton and W. B. Taylor and Miss Maomi Hill are taking State work; Miss Venitia Poppell, State primary work, and Messrs. Wendell Gilbert, Bant Bowden, Leon Clements and Misses Jennie Dilday, Carrie Jenney, Fannie O'Berry and Holly Snow are taking grade work. Prof. Carr informs us that others will enter the last of the week.

Studying the enrollment by towns, Dade City comes first, Gainesville second, and Miami third.

MICANOPY NEWS.

Miss Rubie Thrasher Entertains in a Most Novel Manner.

MICANOPY, June 28.—One of the most delightful as well as unique functions of the season was an entertainment given by Miss Rubie Thrasher to visiting guests, recent school mates at Columbia College—Misses Campbell and Lee of Jacksonville and Miss Stephens of Palatka, on the evening of June 22nd.

The dainty invitations so generously distributed bore an aim of mystery and excited the curiosity of all who were so fortunate as to receive one, for to the epicurian, a bird supper promised a treat, rich, rare and racy.

At the appointed hour, 8:30 o'clock, the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Thrasher begun to fill with a happy, gay and expectant throng of lively lads and lassies on pleasure bent and with hearts full of youthful fancies in apprehending the novel meaning of what that "bird supper" was to be.

In the decorated reception hall stood the pretty hostess with her three lovely guests, and in a modest, unassuming manner, ushered in and welcomed each invited guest.

The oppressively warm weather for a time caused the punch bowl, which was in charge of Miss Ella Johnson and Mr. Albert Smith, to be a most constant and popular resort.

The matching of several pieces of cardboard, on which was written the names of birds and which caused the immediate coupling of the young people, was the beginning of a contest which puzzled the less ambitious, called forth the best that was in some, and for a brief space was the scene of intense determination, each eager to prove him or herself the clever prize-winner.

The program first contained "A young reporter's first effort." Hidden in the foliage of the sentences of the article were seventeen birds. To the party finding the greatest number of birds concealed in the lines referred to was awarded a feather for his cap or a plume for her hat. Following this was the menu for the bird supper, which answers caused the merry crowd to put on their thinking caps" the tighter:

"Menu."

1. The wing of America's national bird?
2. The beak of the prophet's friend?
3. The neck of the bird that saved the Roman army?
4. The white meat of our Thanksgiving fowl?
5. Isral's food in the wilderness on toast?
6. The sweetest note from the throat of the dying bird?
7. A whole song from the South's peerless songster?
8. A foot from the bird of peace and innocence?
9. The liver of the bird which spends Friday in Hades?
10. A quoth from the bird that made Poe famous?
11. A top-not from the monster bird of the Andes?
12. An eye from the symbol of wisdom?
13. The wing of the bird that led Columbus to land?
14. All on toast from the fields about Savannah?
15. The whole bird—the lovers' pet?
16. A dish for the defeated candidate?
17. The queen of the farm?

The last feature of the program was guessing the names of the numerous birds of every hue and plumage which adorned the walls of the spacious dining-room, resplendent in pink, green and white decorations. Amid the merry-making delicious refreshments were served, after which reluctant "good nights" were said, each voting Miss Thrasher a delightful hostess and her guests altogether charming.

Evinston, McIntosh, Tacoma and Micanopy were represented.

The successful contestants were Miss Vallie Grace first prize, a pret-

EGYPTIAN COTTON TO REMAIN ON FREE LIST

Growers of Long Staple Cotton Will Have to Continue to Compete With It.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Southern Senators yesterday ineffectually endeavored to take long staple or Egyptian cotton off the free list and to place upon it a duty of 4 cents a pound, which Senator Bacon, the author of the amendment, declared was a revenue duty only.

As a means of revenue, he said the 210,000 bales of Egyptian cotton imported into the United States annually should not be overlooked. Mr. Bacon estimated that the low duty proposed by him in ten years would bring into the treasury $40,000,000. The fact that this class of cotton is

PROH. AMENDMENT IS SAID TO BE NO EFFECT

Cannot Possibly Be State-Wide Prohibition Before 1913 Even If Amendment Is Adopted.

(Col. G. B. Wells in Tampa Tribune.)

PLANT CITY, June 22.—Editor Tampa Morning Tribune: I desire to submit through the columns of your paper for the consideration of the public some observations on the joint resolution proposing an amendment to article XIX of the constitution of the State of Florida, relating to the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors or beverages proposed by the recent Legislature, commonly known as the prohibition amendment, and to show such irregularities in such amendment as will render it inoperative.

The said joint resolution, from a copy furnished me by the Secretary of State, is as follows:

"Senate joint resolution proposing an amendment to article XIX of the constitution of the State of Florida, relating to the manufacture and sale of other disposal of intoxicating liquors or beverages.

"Be it Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

"That article XIX of the constitution of the State of Florida be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

"Article XIX. Section 1. The manufacture and sale, barter or exchange of all intoxicating liquors and beverages, whether spirituous, vinous or malt, are hereby prohibited in the State of Florida, except alcoholic, for medical, scientific or mechanical purposes; the sale of which alcohol and wine for the purposes aforesaid shall be regulated by law.

"Section 2. The Legislature shall enact suitable laws for the enforcement of the provisions of this article.

"Section 3. This article shall go into effect on the first day of July, A. D. 1911.

"Passed by the Senate April 22, 1909.

"F. M. Hudson, President of the Senate.

"C. A. Finley, Secretary of the Senate. "Passed by the House of Representatives April 23, 1909.

"L. L. Farris, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

"J. G. Kellum, Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives."

The constitution of the State of Florida, which was adopted by the electors of said State at the general election held in November, 1886, and which by an ordinance of said constitution became effective on January 1, 1887, is the organic law of the State of Florida and is the direct expression of the electors of said State, as to limitations to be placed upon legislative authority and the powers and duties of the executive and judicial branches of the State government.

The framers of the constitution, realizing that the demands of the future would necessitate changes in the organic law, provided in said instrument for amendments to be made, and the manner and form in which said amendments are to be made a part of the organic law.

The courts of the State are called upon to interpret phrases and portions of the constitution, as well as the statutes of the State. It is uniformly held by the courts of all American States that interpretations of the constitution should be strict and in accordance with the expressed intent of the provisions of the constitution being interpreted, and that the words thereof are to be given their usual and ordinary meaning.

In the first place the said proposed amendment is not an amendment of article XIX of the constitution in that article XIX of the constitution provides for the sale of intoxicating liquors and beverages and prescribes their manner and sale. Whereas, the proposed amendment to article XIX seeks to prohibit the manufacture and sale of such intoxicating liquors and beverages, being thereby an entirely different subject and foreign to the subject matter as expressed in article XIX of the constitution. It could just as well have been an amendment of any other article of the constitution, as that of article XIX.

Section 1 of article XVII of the constitution of the State of Florida provides the manner of proposing amendments and how the same may become parts of the constitution.

Section 1 of said article provides as follows: "Either branch of the Legislature, in regular session thereof, may propose amendments to this constitution, and if the same be agreed to by three-fifths of all the members elected to each house, such proposed amendment shall be entered upon their respective journals with the yeas and nays, and published in one newspaper of each county where a newspaper is published for three months immediately preceding the next general election of representatives, at which election the same shall be submitted to the electors of the State for approval or rejection. If a majority of the electors voting upon such an amendment at such election shall adopt the amendment, the same shall become a part of the constitution."

In an advisory opinion to the Governor, 34th Florida report, page 500, the supreme court of Florida holds that amendments to the constitution become operative and of full force and effect and part of the constitution eo instanti, upon its approval and adoption by a majority vote of the electors of the State. This same rule is in effect in other American States. "Provisions of the constitution regulating its own amendment otherwise than by convention are generally to be considered mandatory rather than permissive or directory and a strict observance of every substantial requirement is essential to the validity of the proposed amendment. These provisions are as binding on the people as on the Legislature and the former are powerless by their vote of acceptance to give legal sanction to an amendment, the submission of which was made in disregard of limitations contained in the constitution. (See American and English Encyclopedia of Law, Second edition, Volume 6, Page 904), and cases therein cited, so it is clear according to the rule of construction of constitutional provisions, that amendments must be submitted and adopted strictly in accordance with the provisions of the constitution itself.

In the words heretofore quoted from section 1, article XVII of the constitution of the State of Florida, says, "If a majority of electors voting upon an amendment at such election shall adopt amendment, the same shall become a part of the constitution."

Now the word "shall" is used in this connection and in order to arrive at the intent and meaning of this provision, it is proper to notice the meaning of that word.

In American and English Encyclopedia of Law, second edition, volume 25, page 623, the word is construed as follows: The presumption is that the word "shall" is used in an imperative and not in a directory sense, and in its meaning given in dictionaries, the word "shall" is used primarily in the present tense, so that the provisions of the constitution respecting amendments show clearly that the intention was that amendments should take effect immediately upon their approval by the electors as provided therein, and that the Legislature in proposing amendments, or the electors, in adopting amendments, could not extend or enlarge this meaning.

Section 3 of the proposed amendment under discussion provides as follows:

Sec. 3. This article shall go into effect on the first day of July, A. D. 1911.

Now I submit that this proposed amendment is in direct conflict with the constitution respecting amendments, and therefore, as such, is void, as the Legislature proposing and the electors adopting amendments are not authorized to set the time ahead, other than provided by the constitution when amendments shall become effective. Now then, this being the case, the question would be what effect would this have upon the amendment, should the electors at the general election of 1910 adopt the amendment? It is certainly clear that section 3 of said amendment is in pari materi of the other portions of the amendment. It is made part and parcel of the amendment and if one part of the amendment is submitted unconstitutionally, it would render the entire amendment inoperative and void.

Now upon the other hand, should it be held that the proposed amendment is constitutionally submitted and that the electors at the general election in 1910 shall by a majority vote adopt the same, and that the amendment shall become part of the constitution legally on the first day of July, 1911, then there will occur this irregularity. Then said amendment does not provide any penalty for a violation of the provisions of said amendment, but section 2 thereof provides that the Legislature shall enact suitable laws for the enforcement of the provisions of this article, thereby rendering the said amendment inoperative until the Legislature shall have prescribed laws for the enforcement of its provisions.

The amendment, according to its own terms, will not become a part of the constitution until July 1, 1911, therefore the Legislature which convenes in the biennial session in 1911 will have adjourned prior to the time the amendment becomes operative, and therefore the Legislature of 1911 in its regular session will have no power to enact laws for the enforcement of this article, for when a legislative body acts under a special granted power, it certainly cannot act until such time when such grant of power becomes operative.

Under the provisions of the constitution of the State of Florida it is provided that acts of Legislature shall become operative sixty days after the final adjournment of said body, unless they shall name a different time, under which provision the Legislature can provide that its acts shall take effect immediately upon their passage and approval; it could not be held that the Legislature could enact suitable laws to enforce the provisions of this article to become effective sixty days after its final adjournment and thereby be within the time when this amendment shall become effective, for the Legislature must have power at the time it acts, and cannot anticipate a future event, and it cannot act in this instance until it becomes a part of the constitution, which will not be the case until after the final adjournment of the Legislature of 1911.

The result of this State of affairs should the amendment be adopted, is that after the first day of July, 1911, the constitution will prohibit the manufacture and sale, barter or exchange of intoxicating liquors or beverages, but there will be no penalty for a violation of this provision, consequently no prosecution could be made for a violation thereof. The amendment, however, would have superseded the original article XIX, so that there will be no law to control the liquor traffic and every person who desired to engage in it could do so without the payment of any license tax or without prosecution until the convening of the Legislature in 1913, or when the Legislature shall have prescribed suitable laws to enforce this article. And there will necessarily be an hiatus in the laws governing the liquor traffic from July 1, 1911, until the convening of the Legislature in 1913, a period of twenty-one months.

I respectfully submit the foregoing views upon this matter, for the consideration of the electors of the State, believing that they should be fully advised of the legal effect of such amendment, should it be adopted.

OCALA WINS CONTEST IN GAME OF ERRORS

POOR EXHIBITION OF BALL ON LOCAL DIAMOND MONDAY.

Happy and Jolly Crowd of "Rooters"
From Brick City Accompanied the Team Here.

(By Jack Shea.)

From Tuesday's Daily Sun:

The fast Ocala team won over the Oak Hills yesterday in a loosely played game on the local diamond. From start to finish the contest was marked with numerous and costly errors, the majority of which were credited to the home boys.

Watson pitched a splendid game, leaving a shade the better of Brown, the visitors' twirler. "Pop" pitched a steady game, but ragged fielding back of him was what lost it. The Brick City boys took advantage of every misplay and piled up enough runs to carry away the bacon.

The work of Taylor and Hendricks for the locals were features of the game, while Waller, behind the bat, and Donaldson, on second, starred for the visitors.

The Ocala boys are a fast and clean set of players, always in the game to the finish.

Following is the game by innings:

FIRST INNING—Miller hit to first and was out; Graham skied out to second; Bullock walked; Watson fanned. No runs.

Dodge struck out; Jewett popped out to Bullock; Waller fouled out to third. No runs.

SECOND INNING—Hendricks fouled out to catcher, who made a great catch, taking it out of the tree; Denton out, pitcher to first; Spottswood singled to left and stole second, but was tagged trying to annex third. No runs.

Donaldson whiffed; Bennett hit by pitched ball and took his base; Harris walked; Galloway hit to second, forcing Harris; Melver hit a high one to short, who dropped it, Bennett and Galloway scoring. Hartsfield, catching, injured his hand in attempting to catch runner and retired from game. Miller came in from right field and went behind the bat, Lawson going to right. Brown hit to short, out at first. Two runs.

THIRD INNING—Lawson grounded to third, out at first; Taylor drove a hot line drive to second, who handled it nicely; Miller fanned. No runs.

Dodge flew out to Denton; Jewett hit to short and beat it out; Waller hit to short and Jewett was forced out at second; Donaldson placed a scratch hit in right for one base; Bennett flew out to short. No runs.

FOURTH INNING—Graham doubled to left; Bullock hit to second and on error was safe, Graham scoring. Bullock taking second on the throw home to catch Sandy; Watson struck out; Bullock took third on a passed ball; Hendricks got his base and stole second; Denton flew out to center; Bullock and Hendricks scored on bad throw to third; Spottswood walked; Lawson grounded out to second. Three runs.

Harris popped out to short; Galloway whiffed; Melver out, short to first. No runs.

FIFTH INNING—Taylor called out for being hit by bunted ball; Miller was hit by pitched ball and took first; Graham walked, both runners advancing on passed ball; Bullock fouled out to first; Watson skied out to second, leaving Miller and Graham on bases. No runs.

Brown singled to center, Harris run-

TUMOR OF FOUR YEARS GROWTH

Removed by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

South Bend, Ind. — "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound removed a cyst tumor of four years' growth, which three of the best physicians declared I had. They said that only an operation could help me. I am very glad that I followed a friend's advice and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for it has made me a strong and well woman, and I shall recommend it as long as I live." — MRS. MAY FRY, Lindley, Ind.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy—tumor. If you have mysterious pains, inflammation, ulceration or displacement, don't wait for time to confirm your fears and go through the horrors of a hospital operation, but try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and such unquestionable testimony as the above proves the value of this famous remedy, and should give confidence and hope to every sick woman.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

ing for him; Dodge hit to pitcher, who threw high to first, Dodge going to second, and Harris scoring; Jewett hit grounder to Taylor, who failed to handle it, Jewett safe; Waller flew out to center, scoring Dodge; Donaldson singled to right and Jewett crossed the plate; Bennett out, pitcher to first. 3 runs.

SIXTH INNING—Hendricks fanned; Denton flew out to short; Spottswood whiffed. No runs.

Galloway hit to short, safe on first; Melver struck out; Brown out, pitcher to first, Galloway taking second; Dodge doubled to right, scoring Galloway; Jewett hit to short and reached first on bad throw to Bullock, Dodge scoring; Jewett out trying to pilfer second. 2 runs.

SEVENTH INNING—Lawson out, second to first; Taylor grounded out to first; Miller skied out to third. No runs.

Waller out, short to first; Donaldson flew out to second; Bennett out in swings. No runs.

EIGHTH INNING—Graham whiffed; Bullock flew out to second; Watson walked and stole second; Hendricks singled to left, scoring Watson and going to second on throw to the plate; Denton hit by pitched ball and took his base; Spottswood flew out to second. 1 run.

Harris struck out; Galloway fouled out to catcher; Melver skied out to third. No runs.

NINTH INNING—Lawson struck out; Taylor out, second to first; Miller flew out to center.

NELSON GETS APPOINTMENT.

Succeeds Col. Fred Cubberly Who is Now District Attorney.

From Tuesday's Daily Sun:

H. G. Nelson, a partner of the firm of Nelson & Manners of Williston, has been appointed to succeed Col. Fred Cubberly as collector of customs for the ports of Cedar Key and Port Inglis.

Col. H. S. Chubb, who has been in Washington for the past few days, states that other Florida appointments that are recommended by the committee are receiving favorable consideration, and that they all have just cause to feel good over the results obtained. He was glad, however, to again return to his home, and states that it is fully ten degrees cooler here than in Washington.

MICANOPY PLEASSED OVER NEW SCHEDULE

SCENE AT DEPOT REPRESENTED
GRAND EXCURSION EVENT.

Large Number Take Advantage to Initiate the New Service and Visit Gainesville.

The new schedule effective on the A. C. L. railway Monday proved a very pleasant surprise to the citizens of Micanopy, who were out en masse to witness the first trip from that place. Around the depot it was a very noticeable fact that about all of the prominent citizens of the city were there and a large number of others to actually see a first-class passenger train running into that point.

Aside from the fact that a large crowd was present to witness the arrival and departure of the train, the committee who were successful and had started the work for the securing of this service were on hand, and were so well pleased with the manner in which it was received that they will take some immediate steps to have the regular passenger trains, Nos. 39 and 40, run via that point at an early date.

The new train from Wilcox, which has heretofore run from Citra to this city, was well patronized upon its initial trip, and a number of people from Western Alachua availed themselves of the opportunity to visit here and spend the day.

Under this new system Gainesville should enjoy a much larger trade from the outside sections of the county, and The Sun believes that it will prove beneficial and saving to all the patrons along the line of the road and help strengthen every section.

DEATH OF YOUNG MAN.

Was Sick Only Short While Before
Called to Reward.

From Tuesday's Daily Sun.

I. A. Malphurs, a young man of about 26 years of age, died at the hospital on Sunday morning at 8 o'clock, after an illness of ten days from typhoid fever.

Up to within a few months since he was engaged in the mercantile business on West Union street and was well and favorably known by the citizens, who join in extending condolence to the bereaved ones.

His remains were taken to Antioch in the afternoon and laid to rest at 4 o'clock, a large number of relatives and friends being present.

Mr. Malphurs was a very stout young man and was apparently in the best of health until he visited Jacksonville and the encampment, when he came home to take his bed. It seems that he had some premonition that he would die, for shortly after he was taken sick he expressed the desire that his remains be placed in the above cemetery.

From Wednesday's Daily Sun:

The reporter was mistaken, in mentioning the death of Mr. I. A. Malphurs, in stating that he was a well man prior to attending the encampment at Jacksonville. He was sick with a slow fever for about ten days prior to going on the encampment, and only went to keep his promise to go, thinking that possibly the change would benefit him.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

Subscribers to The Sun who are in arrears are urgently requested to make settlement without further delay.

Under the postal regulations we are prohibited from extending credit to subscribers for more than one year, and those who have not paid up to August, 1908, will be dropped from the list of subscribers during the next two weeks. The privilege of mailing the paper to subscribers who are in arrears for over a year is denied by the postal laws, and we have been notified to comply with this provision at once. If you fail to receive The Sun after the middle of July you will therefore know the reason therefor.

Do not wait to come to town to pay your subscription, but send the amount by mail at once. DO IT NOW.

The Gainesville Sun says it is now going into twice as many homes in Alachua county as it was nine months ago; and names are being added to the subscription list at the rate of from twenty-five to fifty each week. The Sun is an interesting paper, ably conducted, and an excellent exponent of Gainesville life. Therefore we are glad to learn of its well-deserved prosperity.—Times-Union Short Talks. Thanks, Brother Edgar, for your appreciated bouquet. And permit The Sun to say that your department of Florida's greatest daily is the most interesting to us of that thoroughly up-to-date newspaper.

In a letter to The St. Augustine Record, Mr. John O'Connor, of the Oriental Hotel, Manhattan Beach, N. Y., manager of the Florida House in that city during the winter, writes the following interesting paragraph: "About three weeks ago, while down in the market, I noticed some new corn on the cob. I asked where it came from and they told me Gainesville, Fla. This is the first new corn from Florida that I have ever seen in a Northern market. It was a very fine article indeed, and was listed on the swell restaurant bills of fare in town as 'Florida corn on the cob,' and brought, during the first week, $1.25 a portion (two ears). I thought this pretty fair for Florida."

Wonder if our readers will recognize to whom The Inverness Chronicle refers in the following: "The State of Florida has witnessed the spectacle of a former Governor getting down to the level of Pat Murphy and other notorious Jacksonville lobbyists and be it said to the discredit of the members of the late lamented Legislature he evidently had them on the hip, figuratively speaking. That former Governor has lost his dignity, if he ever had any. He wants to be U. S. Senator. His influence was great in the Legislature, but he will not have that body alone to handle in his future political work. Naturally the people detest a professional lobbyist, and their votes next year will prove this. He dropped his candy in the last campaign and will not pick it up in the next."

PINEAPPLE AND PRINCIPLE.

When the Payne Committee was hearing what it was pleased to call evidence, in framing the tariff bill for the Lower House, it was necessary in these columns to call attention to the demands of the Florida fruit growers as an example of what protection run crazy could do. It is true they are not more unconscionable than their fellows in California, but in securing an increase of 125 per cent on the Payne bill's import duty on pineapples they make something like a record for sheer greed.

It was admitted by the Florida fruit growers themselves that the pineapple in their State was "a bit out of its native element." In other words, the only possible varieties were liable to be nipped out entirely by frost. In no case could they hope for a quality anywhere equal to the imported article, now well within reach of the humblest purse. Nevertheless, the fruit growers wanted to try experiments, and preferred to do so with other people's money. It need hardly be said that the Democratic Senators, committed to tariff for revenue only, affixed their approval to a duty which made even Mr. Aldrich's strong stomach turn a little. The Tallaferrero amendment raising the Payne duty 125 per cent was carried against Senator Aldrich's vote. Nine Democrats voted for the increase and fourteen could not muster up courage enough to protest against this idiosyncrasy; while only eight of the party of Thomas Jefferson and low tariff took the side of common decency.

If there were the least prospect of building up a business in home-grown pineapple something might be said even for this high protection. One frost, however, puts the grower back where he began, and until we can entirely alter the meteorological conditions of the United States the consumer of pineapple will be paying for an experiment foredoomed to failure.—Wall Street Journal.

Our usually correct and conservative contemporary is mistaken. Growers of pineapples in this State may have admitted that the fruit was "a bit out of its native element," but there is no doubt about its having become "acclimated," and in those sections where the pineapple is cultivated for profit there is little probability of its being nipped out by the frost. The quality is also equal in every respect, if not superior, to that of the imported article, and the industry has passed the experimental stage until it is now one of the greatest industries in the State.

In the opinion of The Journal it is "idiotic" to protect an industry of the nature of the cultivation of the pineapple in Florida, but it is entirely proper to "protect" every industry in the North from competition with foreign countries.

If The Journal really thinks the cultivation of the pineapple in Florida is only an experiment foredoomed to failure until we can alter the meteorological conditions of the United States, a representative of that paper ought to visit the pineries on the East Coast. If "seeing is believing" it would then be convinced to the contrary.

Probably the East Coast contemporaries will give our Wall Street journalistic friend some information which will open his eyes to the justice of protecting this "infant industry" from the pauper labor of the West Indies.

WHY SUCH MISREPRESENTATION?

It is the opinion of Senator McCreary, editor of The Gainesville Sun, that if the new primary law "does not result in the abolition of the primary system of nominating officers, then nothing else is calculated to do so. The new law will have to be seen to be 'appreciated' by the voters." He thinks its provisions are too drastic.—Times-Union Short Talks.

Senator McCreary is one of the "conservative" Senators who have always been opposed to the primary, which gives to the people the right to select their own candidates, and takes this right away from the corporations who have always controlled conventions. Senator McCreary can perhaps tell an anxious public whether or not the "drastic provisions" of the primary law were inserted with the idea of making the primary so objectionable that it would be an easy thing to halter the voters and lead them back to the convention trough.—DeLand News.

Editor Codrington's statement that the editor of The Sun has "always been opposed to the primary," is a malicious misrepresentation of the record of the editor of this paper both as editor and member of the Legislature. The Sun has always advocated the primary system of making nominations and the editor of this paper introduced and succeeded in passing through the Legislature the first bill that was ever placed upon the statute books legalizing primary elections in this State.

We are today as strongly in favor of the primary as we ever were, but we did not vote for the law enacted by the last Legislature, and we are of the opinion that one election held under its provisions will thoroughly disgust the people. If it works satisfactorily we will acknowledge our mistake, but we do not believe the Democratic voters will stand for it for more than one election.

LEARNING BY EXPERIENCE.

The glamour of the footlights leads many people who think they have histrionic talent to yearn for stage life. In a few instances the ambition is justified, but in the great majority it is not. People whose heads get turned with a little success and a good deal of applause in amateur theatricals soon learn that the requirements and exactions of professional life are vastly different from what they expected, and fortunate are they who are disillusioned without the loss of money or character.

That sometimes it is not the case is evident from the recent experience of a lady of means who believed she had the qualities necessary to make a good actress and who was imposed upon by a fake theatrical manager. He represented that he would form a company in which she would be the leading lady. She gave liberally to further the project, and now she is thousands of dollars out of pocket, the manager has decamped, and her ardor for the stage is quenched. The experience was dear but probably effective, and it may serve as a warning to others who may have theatrical aspirations, some money and but few qualifications.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS.

One of the greatest advantages ever instituted to the people of Florida is the silos which are now being operated more extensively throughout this section, and which will save many thousands of dollars to the people here if they will but adopt this rule generally.

Davis & Oliver have some forty acres planted in sorghum alone which they will use in this manner, and they will save not less than $5,000 on feed by this process. All parties that have cattle to feed should pay a visit to one of their places.

They have put up a gas engine and chopper which cuts the roughage up and places it in the receiver at any distance, and is an invention well worth the time to examine. Besides the one now in operation by Davis & Oliver there is one in course of erection at the Diamond ice factory, and Stringfellow & Colclough are also having one built, while numbers of others are contemplating erecting them.

The Western farmers are enabled to ship all of their hay and grain here and use the stalks for their stock, which makes them money that Florida should keep at home.

It looks like real business when one of the foremost textile concerns in the country announces with pride that the goods for next spring, now on exhibition, are to be from 25 per cent to 30 per cent higher than a year ago.

Old Colored Woman Had Been Employed as a Nurse to Wait
on Sick Wife.

J. M. Verner of Micanopy is now confined in the county jail, having attempted to kill T. W. Wynne and a negro woman by the name of Sanderson at his home near Micanopy on Tuesday night about 12 o'clock.

From what could be learned it seems that the man was crazed. He stated to Sheriff Ramsey when en route to this city that he had attempted to kill both parties and gave a credulous story to substantiate what he said: He was awakened at about 12 o'clock by the screams of his wife, he said, who was sleeping in an adjoining room, together with the old darkey woman, Sanderson, she being employed as a nurse, and that T. B. Wynn was also sleeping in the same room on a pallet at the time. On his entering the room he found Wynn in an uncompromising position with his wife. He at once struck at the man, knocking out a large piece of his head from the left forehead, and afterwards hit the negro on the head.

The wound received by Wynn will prove serious, so the doctors state, but in the case of the negro woman she will recover, and a preliminary hearing will be held in this city as soon as the wife can attend, and the fate of the man Wynn is known.

Verner also stated to Sheriff Ramsey after learning of his wife having made a statement, that he took a bottle and beat it up into small pieces and took several doses of it, but the physician at Micanopy gave him some medicine and up to a late hour last night he had shown no ill effects of having taken glass.

All parties are new-comers to the Micanopy section, and Verner was employed here as a drayman for J. E. Thrasher, while the man Wynn was boarding at his home. The negro woman had been employed as a nurse to wait on his wife during the next few weeks and was there for the purpose of looking after her during her coming sickness.

It is the general opinion of a number who have been communicated with that Verner was crazy, and that he has been mentally unbalanced for the past few weeks, in fact since his recovery from a case of typhoid fever.

RELEASED ON BOND.

Priest Parker, who shot and wounded Fletcher DeBose a couple of weeks since, and who has been confined in jail pending the condition of the wounded negro, was released from custody yesterday.

It seems that the negro DeBose is fast regaining his strength and strong hopes are entertained for his recovery at an early date. Indications were so favorable that a certificate from the physician was secured and the matter taken before Judge Mason who ordered Parker's release upon a good bond.

Will Visit Eastern Cities.

Drs. B. M. Tison and J. P. Ambrose will leave today for Baltimore, to be absent during the next six or eight weeks. Dr. Tison will enter one of the hospitals for the time, while Mr. Ambrose goes mainly for pleasure, but will take advantage of all opportunities offered which will prove beneficial to him in his profession as a druggist.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING.

Occurs at Arredondo on Last Sunday Morning—Many Present.

A beautiful home wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Beville of Arredondo Sunday morning, June 27, when their daughter, Miss Kate, was wed to Mr. G. P. Pardee, Rev. Proctor officiating.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Ellen Beville, as maid of honor, and Mr. Lee Summerlin acted as best man.

The bride never looked lovelier than in her wedding dress of blue cloth with hat and gloves to match, while her sister was dressed in white.

After the ceremony a splendid buffet breakfast was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Pardee left on the 12:05 Coast Line train for a wedding trip down the East Coast of our own lovely Florida. After July 10th they will be at home to their friends in North Gainesville.

Many friends of both young people join in wishing for them a life of unbounded happiness.

REALTY CHANGES.

Smaller List Than Usual for the Week Just Closed.

The realty changes recorded in the clerk's office for the past week have been unusually few, in fact the smallest list in some time. Following is the list:

V. A. Branning to Mattie Jackson; A. O. Steenburg to Sam Miller; J. F. McKinstry, Sr., to Taylor & Haile; Robt. F. Murray to E. E. Murray; C. E. Martin to O. R. Abstein; P. K. Richardson to J. L. Wolfenden; Clara Hildebrandt to Rosetta Williamson; F. C. Stephens to Hattie Mizelle; A. L. Holland to W. L. Pratt; Colson & Hodges to G. E. McCarrel; J. A. Manning to Henry Joiner; J. L. Wolfenden to J. M. Moore; R. H. Smith to Leonilla Baker; H. L. Wilkinson to W. H. Sealey; L. C. Denmark to F. B. Godfrey; A. O. Steenburg to C. F. Williams;

IN MEMORIAM.

Died, at the Sanitarium at noon Sunday, Mrs. Cornelia J. Imboden Finney of Rocky Point, near this city, of a complication of diseases, that of the heart being most prominent.

She was born in West Carroll Parish, La., and was seventy-one years of age. She leaves a husband, Samuel G. Finney, a citizen of Rocky Point and an Englishman by birth and rearing, and one son, James Imboden Finney, editor and proprietor of The Brownsville (Tenn.) States-Graphic, and his two sons, her grandchildren. She was the daughter of Miss Dunklin of Virginia, who was the wife of Mr. Imboden. She was a sister of the famous Confederate captain of artillery, James Imboden of Missouri, and a cousin of General John Imboden of "Jeb" Stewart's cavalry corps. She had been raised in affluence but suffered much by the vicissitudes and losses during and since the war. Through it all she remained true to her fine heritage of just womanhood and human sympathy. She was, according to the best standards of humanity, a good, true woman, and this being true it is the best that tongue or pen can say of her, and I am sure now she does not need the offices of either, for she has already heard the celestial commendations, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant." J. W. T. Gainesville, Fla., June 28, 1908.

The G. W. Hyde Company

Beg to thank the thousands who have so liberally patronized the great syndicate sale just closed. It stands pre-eminently before the public the greatest sale ever given in Gainesville or Middle Florida. We sacrificed thousands of dollars worth of most dependable goods, but our customers got the benefit of same, and we are glad of this fact.

The G. W. Hyde Company stands for all that's upright and good. They win their trade on the merits of their merchandise and courteous attention to their customers—these are so overwhelmingly prominent in every effort of this big store that this is why the Hyde Company store is so successful. We will continue to make prices so low no competition can compete with us, and it is so apparent to every Gainesville citizen that it is hardly necessary to speak of it. Again we thank you for your great patronage. G. W. HYDE COMPANY.

Will Give Employment to Large Number of County Teachers During the Dull Season.

A large number of the summer schools of the county are to open on next Monday, all of the preliminary arrangements having been made by County Superintendent J. L. Kelley during the past few weeks.

In all there will be fourteen of these schools that will open up for the term on next Monday, and of this number there will be twenty-five or more teachers employed, which shows that the county assists in keeping things running during the long dull summer months.

Those to open next Monday are:

Cherry Sink—Miss Minnie Lee. Jennings Lake—Miss M. A. McRae. Bartram—Miss Agnes Zetrouer. Townsend—Miss Bertha Love. Jaxville—Miss Mae Warner. Willeford—Miss Mayme Williams. Cow Creek—Miss Ruby Love. Grover—Miss Lillie Love. Suwannee—Miss Ella Fuqua. Thomas—Miss Ada Hague. Hickory Hill—Miss Clara Thomas. Cleveland—Miss Sophia Reinohl. Roadfield—Miss Pearl Futch.

Appealed the Case.

Bill Nelson, who was charged with beating his wife, was given a hearing before Judge Carlisle Wednesday morning and fined $10 and costs or ninety days in the county gang at hard labor. He took an appeal to the next term of circuit court.

KILLED HORSE WHICH HE STOLE TO RIDE

WILL JOHNSON LANDED IN JAIL FOR THE OFFENSE.

Animal Was Property of E. Ludwig of Tioga and Died Before Reaching the Stable.

From Wednesday's Daily Sun:

Will Johnson, a negro employed for some time by E. Ludwig of Tioga, was arrested and brought here Monday by Deputy Sheriff Wynne on the charge of having killed a fine animal belonging to Mr. Ludwig.

Deputy Sheriff Wynne has been quietly working on the case since the stealing, and states that he has sufficient proof to establish the negro's guilt, which will be brought out at the preliminary hearing before Judge Mason some time this week, or as soon as the witnesses can be summoned.

It seems that the negro was the only one that carried a key to the stable in which the horse was kept, and that during Saturday night, June 19th, he took the animal from the stable and drove it until it was nearly dead, returning just in time for the horse to drop and die on the outside of the lot.

A number of witnesses have been secured who will testify that Johnson was seen with the animal after it had been placed in the stable for the night and all of the stock locked up for safe keeping.

Quaker Oats Griddle Cakes

Try them today!

The family that hasn't eaten Quaker Oats griddle cakes has a delightful surprise coming to it. Besides the delicious flavor, there is the pleasure of knowing you can eat all you want, and the more you eat the better for you. The best of all foods for anyone wanting more strength and vigor.

Hundreds of thousands of packages of Quaker Oats are consumed in Germany annually and almost all of it is eaten in the form of Quaker Oats griddle cakes. In the New York cereal restaurant of the Quaker Oats Company these griddle cakes are very popular.

Here's the best recipe for making them:

2 cups Quaker Oats (uncooked); 1½ cup flour; 1 teaspoonful salt; 1 teaspoonful soda; dissolve in two tablespoonfuls hot water; 1 teaspoonful baking powder (mix in flour); 2½ cups sour milk or buttermilk; 2 eggs beaten lightly; 1 tablespoonful sugar; 1 or 2 tablespoonfuls melted butter (according to richness of milk).

Process: Soak Quaker Oats over night in milk. In the morning mix and sift flour, soda, sugar and salt—add this to Quaker Oats mixture and quantity of melted butter; add eggs beaten lightly—beat thoroughly and cook as griddle cakes—they make your mouth water for more.

FUNERAL OF MR. DAWKINS.

Services Held From the Episcopal Church Tuesday Evening.

From Wednesday's Daily Sun:

The services over the remains of B. F. Dawkins, who died from a stroke of paralysis at 12:10 o'clock Tuesday morning, were held from the Episcopal church Tuesday evening, Rev. F. H. Craighill preaching the services.

Having been connected with the court house in various capacities, all of the county officers were present, as well as a large number of the citizens of Gainesville who had known the deceased for the past twenty-five years or more.

He had been, up to the time of his death, one of the deputies of Sheriff Ramsey, besides holding the position of Deputy U. S. Marshal, both of which he filled with entire satisfaction, proving very active for a man of his age up to within a short while before his affliction.

The remains were laid to rest in Evergreen Cemetery.

A Hurry-Up Medicine.

Every housekeeper recognizes the need of effective remedies to be used in emergencies—when something must be done right away. Such a remedy is Perry Davis' Painkiller, for sprains and bruises, for strained muscles and for the aches and pains resulting from blows and falls. Burns and cuts are instantly relieved by it and helped to healing. Its mission of mercy began seventy years ago. It is used in all countries and millions of bottles are sold annually. There is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'. Have you seen the new large 35c size?

CUTICURA CURED HIS SORE EYES

When 63 Years Old Eye-Balls and Lids Became Terribly Inflamed—Was Unable to Go About—Home Remedies and Professional Treatment were Equally Unsuccessful.

TOOK FRIEND'S ADVICE: HAS NO MORE TROUBLE

"About two years ago my eyes got in such a condition that I was unable to go about. They were terribly inflamed, both the balls and lids. I tried home remedies without relief. Then I decided to go to our family physician, but he didn't help them. Then I tried two more of our most prominent physicians, but my eyes grew continually worse. At this time a friend of mine advised me to try Cuticura Ointment, and after using it about one week my eyes were considerably improved and in two weeks they were almost well. They have never given me any trouble since. I was then sixty-three years old and am now sixty-five. I shall never fail to speak a word of praise for the Cuticura Remedies when I have an opportunity, and I trust that this letter may be the means of others being cured as I have been. G. B. Halsey, Mouth of Wilson, Grayson Co., Va., Apr. 4, 1908."

Young People Enjoy Delightful Dance. Farmers Busy.

REX, June 26.—We have had several refreshing rains, which were much appreciated by the farmers, as the crops were suffering for want of rain.

Miss Maggie Nash, one of our most popular young ladies, has returned to St. Augustine after a pleasant visit to relatives here.

Miss Lula Ormond is home on a visit to relatives and friends after a pleasant stay of three months at Inglis.

Miss Mamie Low Worthington of Madison county is visiting her sister, Mrs. S. Shaw.

The farmers of our section are very busy canning tomatoes.

John Ormond has returned from a brief visit to Sarasota, Ocala, Dunnellon and other points. He reports a pleasant trip.

Joe Nash is home on a visit from Jasper, where he has been attending school.

Mrs. Stella Moree and child of Dunnellon are visiting her mother, Mrs. Cameron.

Oh! I liked to have forgotten about the dance, which was at the residence of Mrs. Josephine Nash on the evening of June 22. It was attended by quite a number of young people and was enjoyed by all. It will be a green spot in the memory of those who attended for quite awhile. A few of those present were: Misses Kate, Mary, Maggie and Amelia Nash, Lula and Daisie Ormond, Flaucy Cameron, Buelah Sherouse, Eva Townsend and Christian Waters; Messrs. Ed Dyess, Clyde, Leslie and Dr. Geo. Sherouse, John Holden, John and James Ormond, Frank Townsend, Clarence Cameron, Troy Beckham, and others. The guests danced until the "wee sma' hours" of the night, when refreshments were served and immensely enjoyed; then they bade their charming hostesses adieu, assuring them they had a most delightful time, and departed for their respective homes.

If people with symptoms of kidney or bladder trouble could realize their danger they would without loss of time commence taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. This great remedy stops the pain and the irregularities, strengthens and builds up these organs and there is no danger of Bright's disease or other serious disorder. Do not disregard the early symptoms. J. W. McCollum & Co.

A SAD DEATH.

Fernando S. Sanchez Goes to His Reward After Lingered Illness.

TRENTON, June 26.—The Heavenly Father in His infinite wisdom has seen fit to take from us our loving brother and friend, Fernando S. Sanchez.

He was born in Alachua county in 1861 and died June 18, 1909. He professed faith and joined Cleveland Baptist church the first Sunday in September, 1897, living to his church and ever striving to do his Master's will. He was in very ill health for some three years past, suffering with a cancer, which had eaten off one side of his face, and at last it ate the cord that runs from the eye to his brain and he strangled to death on blood.

With all his afflictions and trouble of this life he bore them with meekness, awaiting the summons that would bear his spirit from this world of woe to that celestial land where all is peace and love, where cometh no more sorrow, pain or death.

He was buried from Pine Grove Baptist church on June 19th by Rev. J. K. Sheffield of Judson, and laid to rest in the church cemetery by gentle hands amid throngs of grief-stricken relatives and friends and showers of tears.

The many friends around his casket spoke tenderly of the boundless love that waited for this untimely death.

He will be greatly missed but we are aware of the fact that our loss is his gain. God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform. While we with saddened hearts must bow in submission to our Heavenly Father's will, hope points upwards, faith exerts itself and we remember "that all things work together for good to those who love God."

May we receive this as a call to greater consecration to faithful service to our Saviour, and may God comfort and sustain his children and loving wife in this their greatest of life's trials and around the entire family may circles of divine grace abide.

Mrs. Finney Dies at Hospital.

From Tuesday's Daily Sun:

Mrs. S. G. Finney, an aged lady of Rocky Point who was brought here a few days since and placed in the hospital, died at that institution Sunday morning at 11:30 from a complication of diseases and old age combined, being in her 72nd year.

The remains were laid to rest in Evergreen cemetery Monday morning, a large number of friends being present for this occasion. She leaves a husband and one son, who were with her at the time of death.

Lost $30, Probably on Train.

From Wednesday's Daily Sun:

A gentleman by the name of Lanier, from South Florida, arrived in the city yesterday in company with his daughter, whom he intended entering in the Summer Normal, but upon his arrival here he found that he had lost his purse containing some $30. His wants were made known to a brother Mason and he was provided with sufficient funds for the return of both himself and daughter.

LOSES FINE MULE.

Tree Falls on Back and Kills the Animal Instantly.

Wade Thomas of Montecocha was a visitor to the city yesterday, and reports the loss of a valuable mule at his home last Saturday.

The animal was standing under a tree which was being felled, and before anyone knew it the tree had fallen and killed the animal, striking him on the back. It was necessary for Mr. Thomas to come here yesterday and replace the animal, which he did with a pair of mules. The loss will prove rather hard on him at this time, being just between his crops.

Starved to Death

Is what could truthfully be said of many children who die. They have worms, poor little things—they don't know it and you don't realize it. If your child is cross, fretful, pasty-complexioned and loses weight for no apparent reason, give it White's Cream Vermifuge—you will be surprised at the results and how quickly it picks up. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Sudden Death Sunday.

From Tuesday's Daily Sun:

Mrs. J. A. Williams of Cedar Key died very suddenly at the hospital on Sunday after an illness of only a short while. It will be remembered that she was brought here from Cedar Key and placed in the institution, but owing to her unfortunate condition she succumbed to death before medical aid could assist her. The remains were taken to her home at Cedar Key for interment. She was the wife of Senator J. A. Williams.

Many people with chronic throat and lung trouble have found comfort and relief in Foley's Honey and Tar, as it cures stubborn coughs after other treatment has failed. L. M. JUNIORS AT MICANOPY.

Defeated by a Score of 14 to 4 on Last Tuesday.

A number of young baseball enthusiasts bled off to Micanopy Tuesday and met the team of that place in a contest on the diamond. The game was a very one-sided affair, the score being fourteen to four in favor of the Micanopy boys.

Only last week they had their first contest, which was much more interesting, but in this game the Micanopy boys were also victorious.

Everyone would be benefited by taking Foley's Orino Laxative for stomach and liver trouble and habitual constipation. It sweetens the stomach and breath, gently stimulates the liver and regulates the bowels and is much superior to pills and ordinary laxatives. Why not try Foley's Orino Laxative today? J. W. McCollum & Co.

Dr. Murphree Here.

Dr. A. A. Murphree, president of the University of Florida, arrived in the city yesterday to spend a few days on business. He will attend the Denver convention of teachers, after which he will make final arrangements for removing his family from Tallahassee. Dr. Murphree is greatly encouraged at the prospects of the coming session of the University, reports indicating a large attendance.

Delay in taking Foley's Kidney Remedy if you have backache, kidney or bladder trouble, fastens the disease upon you and makes a cure more difficult. Commence taking Foley's Kidney Remedy today and you will soon be well. Why risk a serious malady? J. W. McCollum & Co.

MISS LORNA MCCREDIE LEADS IN SOUTHERN

POLLS LARGEST VOTE, WITH MISS MABEL A CLOSE SECOND.

Miss Hattie English Holds Second, But Polled Light Vote in Contest of Wednesday.

As the time draws to a close interest increases in the great contest being conducted by the business houses of this city. During the past three days there has been some great changes made in the standing of the contestants, and in the Micanopy section the rivalry between Miss English and Miss Lorna McCredie is increasing, both polling an extra heavy vote, with Miss Mabel McCredie and Miss Martie Chamberlin close behind them.

There have also been some extra heavy jumps in the Northern and Western section, Misses Bryant, Powell, Kirkland and Ludwig polling the highest votes in the order named. Miss Beal, for the Gainesville section, is fast approaching her highest competitor, Miss Goode, and there is now a difference of less than 400,000 between these two candidates, the smallest majority the leader has had for some time.

Only about six weeks remain for the contestants to work, and if you get busy you can pile up an enormous amount of ballots between now and that time, and the prizes that are to be awarded are all worthy of getting out and losing the time to gain them. By special arrangements of The Sun, certificates will be issued which will be redeemable on any grade of instrument handled by the A. R. Harper Company. For instance, you can buy one of the instruments and let the certificate stand as part payment on any one piano that they handle at no advance in price.

LOWRY PRELIMINARY BEFORE JUDGE MASON

CASE CONTINUED FOR THIRTY DAYS PENDING EVIDENCE.

This to Determine the Direct Cause of His Death Thirty Days Later.

The preliminary hearing of James Lowry, colored, was held before Judge Mason Monday, when all of the evidence was introduced concerning the case in this county, a large number of witnesses having been summoned here from Wilcox to testify in behalf of the State.

Owing to the fact that nothing had been introduced showing whether the negro died from the effects of the wounds, Judge Mason adjourned the hearing in the case until the South Carolina authorities could be communicated with.

The evidence shows that the negro, Alf Johnson, was stabbed by James Lowry, but he afterwards left for his South Carolina home and after having been there for a month died, supposedly from the wounds, and it is to determine this part of the evidence that Lowry is held on the murder charge.
